17 Travelouge

Mode of transport is a term used to distinguish substantially different ways to perform. The most dominant modes of transport are aviation, ship transport, and land transport, which includes rail, road and off-road transport. And what else?

28 The secret of one journey

Each trip requires planning and is usually associated with unnecessary costs and stress. You can read endless articles about amazing places around the globe, long for the YouTube sunset in Iceland or listen to the ringing of bells in Kyoto or Burma, but don't even try to leave your comfort zone and seek adventure.

37 How to be a part of ...

The trip is a meeting with people. And with them you can become a team with which to achieve extraordinary results. However, good teams do not come out of nowhere. They are usually created by people, by tasks, by working together.

52 Melting Point

The journey, after all, is everything. This is joy. This is fear. This is love, this is hatred, this is surprise and confusion. It makes you smarter, and makes you happier and gives you answers to all those questions! It is a way to discover yourself!

The donkey is a wonderful way to move, known to the world since ancient times. They are significantly superior to humans in speed, endurance and capacity. And we like them because of their charm. The picture is personal archive of Marsii - a trip to Donkey farm in Rila mountain, Bulgaria.

FEATURED STORY

TO DISCOVER YOURSELF

In English we still occasionally use the words travail and travails, which mean struggle.

CONQUERING THE PEAKS

Climbing high in the mountains is not just about conquering a specific peak. It is the discovery of our own boundaries and physical limitations that we usually set for ourselves.

The journey is also discovering oneself through the eyes and in the presence of other people. To trust. To share. To see yourself with and around other people.

UP & UP: A view of the relationships with people around. One real friend of Marsii - Dali from Tunisia.

TO BE A PART OF A TEAM

The trip is a meeting with people. And with them you can become a team. A team with which to achieve extraordinary results. However, good teams do not come out of nowhere. They are usually created by people, by tasks, by working together.

MELTING POINT

The journey, after all, is everything. This is joy. This is fear. This is love, this is hatred, this is surprise and confusion. It makes you smarter, and makes you happier and gives you answers to all those questions! It is a way to discover yourself!

Don't stop traveling! Do not stop searching and discovering yourself, the world and the people around you!
